EWART'S ANTI TRUST BILL UP

But is Referred Back to Committee.

Amendment Offered by Introducer Causes It To Be Re-referred—The Resolution For Commission to Investigate Trusts Discussed At Length—Finally Tabled—Other Work In Legislature Yesterday.

Raleigh, Feb. 13.—In the House this morning the Ewart anti-trust bill came up for special order. Mr. Ewart sent up an amendment that was considered material to the extent that insistence by Mr. Ray that the bill and amendments go back to committee carried with the consent of the introducers.

The Ewart resolution for the House to appoint a commission to investigate the conduct of trusts in North Carolina came up as a special order also. There was unfavorable report on the resolution from the committee and a minority favorable report supported by Judge Ewart who made a long speech in support of his measure. He reviewed legislation as to trusts during the past two sessions of the Legislature, the charges made in some quarters that the act is "toothless" and that trusts are flagrantly oppressing the people. He read from a number of newspapers and quotations from some prominent Democrats to show the need for investigation in order that the next Legislature can act intelligently. The Raleigh morning paper was extensively read and treated the operation of the Texas anti-trust law in collecting over two millions in fines out of fourteen corporations proven to be operating there as trusts.

Representative Ray pronounced the Ewart resolution worthless and further consideration of it a waste of time. The vote was called on the minority report and the vote in which a division was called showed 34 for and 21 against Ewart's resolution. The point was raised that the members did not realize what their vote meant and the question was again put. This time the vote was 37 to 30 for Ewart resolution.

The resolution was then declared to be on its final reading. Mr. Turlington declared that members of the House, he was sure, didn't understand the situation and the effect of the Ewart resolution. That it would in no way cure any trust evil that might exist but would simply waste thousands of dollars from the state treasury and attain nothing of any possible value to the state.

Mr. Doughton called attention to the fact that the Ewart resolution was only a House resolution, and Mr. Ewart sent up an amendment making it a joint resolution.

Mr. Turlington offered an amendment that the House judiciary committee be directed to prepare and present without delay an effective anti-trust bill. This was ruled out of order. Mr. Doughton further called attention to the fact that the resolution was without enacting clause. This was offered as amendment by Mr. Ewart. Then there was a motion by Mr. Stroup, of Gaston, that the resolution and amendments lie on the table. This carried 51 to 26. And the incident closed.

Bills passed final reading: Provide for redemption of $550,000 bonds of state falling due in 1913 and take care of present deficit in state treasury by short term notes of state treasurer until state revenue is sufficient to pay off the deficit.

Among bills favorably reported from committees were: Provide legislative library; provide for the establishment of traveling libraries; Spahnour bill for $400,000 additional state appropriation for public schools.

The bill to provide a commission and one million dollars bonds for a fireproof state administration building was made a special order for February 16 after the morning hour.

Messages came from the governor transmitting the report of the trustees of the University of North Carolina and urging favorable action as to additional clerical help in the governor's office and for increased allowance for expenses of Supreme and Superior court judges.

The House voted down a motion by Representative Marshall for five hundred copies of his bill for free text books to indigent children to be printed.

The Senate. President Newland called the Senate to order at 11 o'clock, Rev. T. W.

O'Kelly, of the First Baptist church, offering prayer.

Petitions Presented. Graham, of Orange: From citizens of Durham county against near beer; also amend the Kent near beer bill as asked by druggists.

Fisher, of Polk: From the Junior Order asking for the establishment of a normal and industrial school in Western North Carolina.

Introduction of Bills.

Graham, of Orange: Authorize the governor to appoint a state tax commission to report a scheme to the next general assembly for equalizing the valuation of lands and other property, assessment and collection of taxes and such further measures in regard to taxation as they may deem proper for the best interests of the state.

Senator Cobb's bill to establish state farm-life schools was made special order for Wednesday at 12 o'clock.

The bill authorizing married women to contract as if unmarried was postponed until tomorrow.

Adjutant General Salary Bill Re-referred.

The bill to raise the salary of the adjutant general from $1,000 to $2,000 per year was debated at length and finally re-referred on motion of Senator Lemmon to the committee on appropriations. The introducer, Senator Hobgood, urged the passage of the bill and other senators favoring it were Senators Gardner, Hicks, Boyden, Johnson, Long, Lemmon and Green, but Senators Lemmon, Bassett, Barnes, Thorne and Brown insisted on re-referring and this was done. Senator Sigmon was opposed to raising the salary, contrasting it with the pitiful amount received by teachers of the state.

The Senate at 1:55 adjourned until 11 o'clock Tuesday.

SEVENTY-THREE YEARS OLD

Mrs. Nancy A. Brown Celebrates Birthday by Holding Family Reunion—Many Congratulations Received.

Mrs. Nancy A. Brown was seventy-three years old yesterday and her birthday was celebrated in a most pleasant manner. A family reunion was held, four generations being represented, and in the afternoon Mrs. Brown was at home to her many friends. She was the recipient of many congratulations, a number coming in the form of telegrams from friends in other cities.

At noon a birthday dinner was served at the Brown residence on North Elm street, there being twelve children and grandchildren gathered around the festive board on which were dishes of nearly every variety.

Mrs. Brown is the mother of Messrs. S. S. Brown, Greensboro; J. C. Brown, New Bern; W. D. Brown, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. S. L. Gilmer, Greensboro; Mrs. R. M. Albright, Raleigh; Miss Lake Brown, Greensboro.

Yesterday afternoon from 4 to 5:30 o'clock Mrs. Brown was at home to her friends and a large number called to extend congratulations. The home had been decorated in an artistic manner for the occasion. The north drawing room was beautiful with pink carnations, while jonquils were used effectively in the south drawing room. White sweet peas and smilax were the decorations in the dining room.

The guests were met at the front door by Little Miss Phyllis Albright, of Raleigh, granddaughter, of Mrs. Brown. In the north drawing room Mrs. Brown stood at the head of the receiving line. She wore black silk with white lace trimmings. Those who assisted in receiving in this room were her daughters, Mrs. S. L. Gilmer, Mrs. R. M. Albright, Miss Lake Brown, Mrs. W. D. Brown, of Washington, her daughter-in-law, and Mrs. R. D. Douglas, her granddaughter. In the hall the guests were received by Mrs. C. M. Vanstory and Miss Olivia Nelson. In the south drawing room Mrs. Floyd C. Elmore and Mrs. R. C. Hood received. In the dining room Mrs. George Kennett and Mrs. Gernie G. Gilmer received. In the punch room punch was served by Mrs. A. B. Kimball and Mrs. Dewstoe.

Ladies Aid Society of Christian Church Meets.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Christian church met yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock with Mrs. S. M. Maddox, West Lee street. The yearly reports from the several committees were of a most encouraging nature and so enthused the members that it was decided to plan for a larger work during the new year. Following the business meeting a social session was held and seasonable refreshments were served.

Mrs. Deal To Entertain.

Mrs. E. C. Deal has sent out invitations to a bridge party for Wednesday afternoon. The reception rooms of the Elks' home will be used for the afternoon.

NEGRO FRACAS ENDS FATALLY

Claude Gilmer Kills Connie Garrett.

Shooting Occurred Last Night About Ten O'Clock On Gilmer Street—Both Negroes Had Been Drinking Rather Heavily—Gilmer Gives Himself Up and Claims That Shooting Was Accidental—Held Without Bail.

As a result of a fracas, participated in by drunken negroes last night, Connie Garrett lies dead in his home, while Claude Gilmer is in the calaboose to await a hearing before Judge Eure this morning.

Garrett was shot in the head with a 32 revolver, the bullet entering the right eye and coming out near the base of the brain. He lived for about half an hour after the shooting. Gilmer went to police headquarters less than an hour after the shooting and surrendered to Policeman Glenn, who was on duty at that hour.

From the news gleaned last night from several sources it appeared that Garrett, Gilmer and Babe Atwater had been to the negro dance hall on East Market street, where they had on the side taken on more than their share of "mountain dew," or "blue lightning," whichever name one chooses to call it. They returned by way of Hampton Winchester's house on Gilmer street and while there Atwater and Gilmer began scuffling around. Winchester was in bed suffering from grip and he asked Garrett to put them out. After showing the two negroes outside the door Garrett shut the door and immediately Gilmer called for his coat. When Garrett opened the door to hand the coat out Gilmer fired with fatal effect. He then disappeared and was not seen until he surrendered at police headquarters.

Gilmer claims that the two were "progykin" with the pistol and that it went off "sudden-like," the ball having deadly effect. Atwater states that Gilmer first threatened to shoot him and he hurried around the house to get out of range and while he was doing the "stunt" Gilmer shot Garrett. He claims that the pistol had been pawned him for a sum of money and he carried it until it was redeemed by the negro who pawned it. However, Gilmer states that the pistol belonged to Atwater, having brought it from "West Verginy."

At any rate Gilmer is being held without bail and the officers state that they have some damaging evidence against him which they believe will show that it was clear case of murder. They also have Atwater on the charge of carrying a concealed weapon. Both will be given a hearing before Judge Eure this morning.

Garrett, the murdered negro, was about 17 years of age and lived on East Market street. Gilmer, the murderer, is about 18 years old and lives on East Washington street. He is a son of Alex Gilmer, the barber, and a nephew of Ferd Gilmer, the negro who shot and dangerously wounded a negro woman just before Christmas.

WILL HOLD BAZAAR

Ladies Aid Society of Moravian Church Plans Interesting Event For Last of Week.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Moravian church will give, on Friday and Saturday night of this week, in the dining room of the Public Service Company, the bazaar that they were to have given last week and which had to be postponed on account of unfavorable weather conditions.

The ladies of the society will serve hot oysters and chicken salad. The young ladies of the Philathea class will serve home-made candies, hot chocolate and sandwiches.

Among the articles for sale at the bazaar will be articles of fancy work generally, also a variety of cooking, nursing and fancy aprons, also caps, etc.

The patronage of the public is solicited.

Colored Boy Badly Injured.

Jim Reeves, a colored trip boy employed in the city market, got the fingers of his left hand cut off in an electric mill yesterday. He was hurried to St. Leo's hospital to have the hand dressed.

WILL BE TRIED AT SPECIAL TERM

Speedy Justice For Wilson Murderers.

Governor Will Call Special Term of Wilson Court to Convene In Two Weeks—Negroes to Be Guarded During Trial—All Five of West's Accomplices Now In Jail—Good Roads Meeting Today.

Raleigh, Feb. 13.—Governor Kitchen and Wilson county authorities are conferring relative to the speedy calling of a special term of court at Wilson for the trial of Lewis West and his accomplices in the killing of Deputy Sheriff Mumford and serious wounding of Chief of Police Glover. West and three others of his accomplices being now in the penitentiary here to prevent their being lynched. The court will be called to convene within two weeks and the prisoners are to be conveyed to and from Wilson for trial on special trains and under full company military guard that is to also guard the court during the trial. The last of the accomplices at large was taken late last night. He is Dave Young and was arrested in the suburbs of Wilson. Lewis West gave the names of the five in his confession. Steps are being taken to arrest a number of negroes he has given the names of as members of a band of thieves he organized. He pleads that either of the five negroes in the house at the time might have killed Mumford. They are Dave Young, Wade Williams, Mathews Mebane, Ed Nelson and Jim Simms.

Tomorrow a meeting will be held at noon in the court house to consider the bill to create a Central Highway across the State of North Carolina, running from the Beaufort harbor to the Tennessee line. The meeting is called by the Wake County Good Roads Association. The proposed highway will run through eighteen counties, with roads from other counties leading to it.

This road will begin at some point near the Beaufort harbor and extend through the counties of Carteret, Craven, Jones, Lenoir, Wayne, Johnston, Wake, Durham, Orange, Alamance, Guilford, Davidson, Rowan, Iredell, Catawba, Burke, McDowell, and Buncombe, to a point on the line of the state of Tennessee. This road will be composed of roads now existing, as far as is practicable, and the suggestions is that the high division of the North Carolina Geological and Economic Survey select the best route of the highway.

The meeting tomorrow is expected to be a very large and enthusiastic one. Representatives from the eighteen counties are expected to be present to offer the solutions of how each individual county expects to aid in the movement. Special invitations have been issued to the members of the general assembly representing these counties to be present and enter into the discussions.

ADJUTANT QUIRK HERE

Will Conduct Services For Lieut. Miller Tonight.

Adjutant Quirk, of the Salvation Army, of Atlanta, will arrive in the city today and will deliver speeches at the open air service of the corps this evening, and later in the hall at 705 South Elm street.

The adjutant has had over 17 years experience in the Army's service and is possessed of a good strong voice, and excellent musical ability. The visitor will add to the music of the meetings by furnishing his share on "Little Joe," a banjo that he carries with him wherever he goes. Adjutant Quirk stops here en route to a conference of the Salvation Army officers to be held in Washington City February 17-20 inclusive.

Mr. Anderson Wants To Hear From Tobacco Growers.

Editor Telegram:—Please allow me space in your paper to say to the tobacco farmers of Guilford county that the county union has elected me delegate to the Tobacco Growers Association that will meet at Danville, Va., March 15, 16, 1911 and I will be very glad to have a letter from any one interested for I deem it of much importance to know what the views of all are so I can better serve you. So hope to have a letter from all not later than March the 10th, I am Respectfully yours, Wm. J. ANDERSON, Route No. 1, Gibsonville, N. C.

GETTING READY FOR BALL GAMES

Athletes of High School Practicing For Contests on Diamond—Three Games Already Scheduled—Some Good Material.

Under the direction of Capt. Henry Foust the Athletic Association of Greensboro High School yesterday afternoon began training for the baseball season. The first practice had been called by the captain for Monday last but the wet weather prevented a single practice. However, the diamond at the old park is now in good condition and the call to practice yesterday brought out material enough for three teams.

Last year's team made an excellent record, winning from every high school they tackled and were defeated only by the first and second teams respectively of Elon and Guilford colleges. Coffin, pitcher for the past two years, Capt. Foust, last year's first baseman, Stone, second baseman for two seasons, and McDuffie and Fisher, outfielders, all valuable and reliable men, will again be with the team. There is also a great abundance of new and very promising material and several men of the second team from last year.

Stone and Lewis, manager and assistant, respectively, are devoting all their energies toward completing a good, hard schedule. Three games abroad are already listed: March 8, Elon College; March 11, Burlington High School; April 15, Danville Boys' School. Arrangements for several games here are also being completed.

In connection with the ball practice the boys are working on a track at the field in anticipation of a meet with several high schools.

McDuffie, captain of the track team, gives every man several laps of hard sprinting before allowing the team to disperse. During March several meets will be pulled off between the classes of the High School. The Seniors and Intermediates have already elected captains, Will Coffin being chosen by the former and Will Grimsley by the latter.

Even if the boys do not startle the nation with world's records much wholesome and beneficial exercise is obtained from the games. Another good result is a pledge given by each member of both squads that each will abstain from tobacco in any form, intoxicating drinks or drinks containing carbonated water. A broken pledge insures the offender's dismissal from the squad.

RECIPROCITY BILL

Republicans Fought Against Consideration of the Measure.

Washington, Feb. 13.—Immediately after the House met today Representative McCall, of Massachusetts, called up the reciprocity bill for immediate consideration.

Objection was made by members of the District of Columbia committee, this being district day on the House calendar. A point of no quorum was also made. To insure a full vote a call of the House was ordered and all absentees summoned to the chamber.

While the vote to displace the regular order for today on the House calendar and take up reciprocity cannot be accepted as an exact indication of the final vote on the bill, it is regarded as being approximately so. The vote against taking up the measure today came almost wholly from the Republican side. The Democrats voted almost solidly for immediate consideration. Some of the Republicans who voted against displacing the regular order are not expected to place themselves on record against reciprocity at a final vote.

Mr. McCall, of Massachusetts, will handle the time for debate in favor of the bill and Mr. Dalzell, of Pennsylvania, will serve in like capacity for the opposition.

Will Serve Luncheon At Sale of Unclaimed Freight.

A Southern Railway sale of unclaimed freight will be conducted today, commencing at 9:30 o'clock, at 341 South Davis street, the stand formerly occupied by the Scott-Sparger Company. Mr. R. L. England will conduct it. He has had a platform built and from it will cry off the various articles that will be disposed of. He will be able to accommodate at least a part of the crowd with seats and at noon he will serve luncheon.

LARGE AUDIENCE HEARS WENDLING

Lecture on "Stonewall Jackson" Appreciated.

Lecturer's Description of Battles in Which Jackson Was a Prominent Figure Most Thrilling and Evoked Enthusiastic Applause—A Lecturer of Superb Ability—Was Introduced by Maj. Stedman.

Last evening at the West Market Street annex, appeared Mr. George R. Wendling, a lecturer of superb ability, before a large and appreciative audience. He was introduced by Major Chas. M. Stedman in an eloquent address during the course of which he paid lofty tribute to Stonewall Jackson, the subject of the speaker's address for the evening.

Upon sight of Mr. Wendling one immediately thinks of Joseph Jefferson. With dark and penetrative eyes and features belonging to the man of vitality and quick perception, he would anywhere be taken for a dramatist of far more than average powers. His acquaintance with history, great battles, and those generals who have been immortalized in the annals of all times should place him certainly in a class with Plutarch, Gibbons, and Macaulay.

Indeed, he loves history, and he loves Virginia and the memory of Jackson, but one is led to believe that he loves America and Americans even more. His description of the battles of Manassas and those fought in the valley of Virginia when Jackson defeated Shields, Banks, and Fremont with but a handful of soldiers, compared with the great Union army, was thrilling and frequently brought forth tremendous applause. Throughout all his engagements, the speaker said, the great general never failed to give the glory to God, as in the smoke of battle, when cannon were thundering and men were dying, Jackson was riding up and down the line of battle, calm, dignified, absolutely fearless, and with lips moving—Jackson was praying.

Mr. Wendling said that the great victory at Manassas decided nothing; that it was but a flash of lightning revealing the size of the storm cloud. He said that the civil war was not an accident; that it was God's plan of uniting the Puritans of New England and the cavaliers of the South—two elements that were always antagonistic and would have remained so but for the war; that God did not punish the South for enslaving the negro, who would have been freed anyway in the evolution of events; that the war and a Puritan still made an Englishman who thought himself superior to the cavalier of the South, while the Southerner thought himself superior to the Puritan; but now the three—the Puritan, the cavalier, and war had fused, not a cavalier or a Puritan, but an American; and when Jackson was by mistake killed by a Southern soldier, it was only the hand of God, whose purpose was soon to be accomplished. The last words of Jackson were, "It is all right;" and when Jackson and Lee and Sheridan and Grant met in the spirit world, said the speaker, he thought they would clasp each other by the hand, as they looked down on a reunited country of true Americans and say, in the words of Jackson, "It is all right."

Yesterday Mr. Wendling, who was a personal friend of the late Dr. C. D. McIver, visited the State Normal College and at noon made a short talk before the student body.

SUPERIOR COURT BEGINS.

Regular Two Week February Term Convened Yesterday Morning.

The regular February term of Guilford Superior court for the trial of civil cases convened yesterday morning. The term is for two weeks and there are 31 cases on the calendar. Judge F. A. Daniels is presiding.

Monday's calendar was cleared in short order yesterday and shortly after dinner court took a recess until this morning. Practically every case on the calendar for the day had been compromised before court convened and all that was necessary was for the judgment to be signed by the court.

There are nine cases on the calendar for today and it is not likely that all will be disposed of as some will no doubt be long drawn out.

YOUR HAT

May Be a Stylish One, But It Makes Trouble.

A man usually buys a hat that is "in style," but the modern hat for men has lots to answer for.

Baldheads are growing more numerous every day. Hats are the cause of breeding places for the parasitic germs which sap the life from the roots of the hair.

When your hair begins to fall out and your scalp is full of dandruff it is a sure sign that these countless germs are busily at work.

There is but one way to overcome the trouble and kill the germs—that way is to apply Newbro's Herpicide to the scalp—it will kill the germs and healthy hair is sure to result.

WHY MEN SUCCEED.

A Factor That is Too Infrequently Acknowledged.

Cleveland Leader.

"To my wife is due all my success."

That is the confession freely made by the president of a big oil company last week, just after he had sold his holdings for $3,000,000 and given $200,000 to the University of Pittsburgh, where he was once a student.

How many successful men there are who know in their hearts that the same thing is true of themselves, yet how few confess it! Some readily make the acknowledgment to their wives, but it is not often that the man who has achieved place and power is willing to confess publicly. Pride, selfishness and the satisfaction of being regarded by their fellows as exceptional men hold them back. Others are so blinded by egotism that they do not realize the truth.

It is not hard for a man to perceive and admit the part his wife plays in his successes if she happens to possess a knowledge of business and is thoroughly informed in the affairs of the world. Her help is direct and so immediately affective that it cannot fail of recognition. But such cases are few. The average wife and mother has had neither the opportunity nor the inclination to become familiar with business, and she has no time to indulge in extensive study of such matters. Yet in a great number of cases if her husband is prosperous it is because of her efforts and her judgment.

When they were married probably they had little. Who was it that saved the money which enabled him to make his first investment or to engage in business for himself? His wife. She saw to it that the household expenses were kept down to the lowest limit compatible with health and comfort. She economized and she made him economize. More than all, she kept him free from vice and moral uncleanness, watched over his health, soothed away the bitterness of defeats and inspired in him the strength to persevere with a cheerful heart.

If a man has risen to be the head of a great corporation or has become a leading light in one of the professions, or if he has achieved the more important success of establishing a good American home, let him ask himself this question: What would he be if it had not been for his wife? If he is candid with himself, a good many unpleasant possibilities will present themselves to his mind. He will have to acknowledge that in all probability he would have "gone wrong."

CHAMP CLARK'S PARENTS.

His Father, of Roving Nature, Wed Beautiful Kentucky Girl.

Lawrenceburg Cor. Louisville Courier-Journal.

While Champ Clark has risen into prominence, his road has not been strewn with roses, and it has been through the hardest kind of digging that he has reached the Speakership.

Born in Anderson county among the cliffs along the Kentucky river, whose scenery is often compared to that of the beautiful Hudson, Clark was imprinted within the confines of nature. The home of Clark was similar to that of other pioneer homes, consisting of three rooms—the sitting room, the bedroom and the kitchen and dining room combined.

At the time of Clark's birth there were no railroads in that section of the country, and the farmers rode on horseback to the nearest "grocery store" and postoffice for their supplies and mail.

Reared in what was then almost a wilderness, Champ Clark, in his earliest childhood was a student of nature. He loved the little spring beauties which were found in the woods nestling in the grass and weeds, the old-fashioned thousand-leaf rose which blossomed in mid-summer, and the goldenrod which betokened the coming of winter. He knew the voices of the bob white, the thrush, the mocking bird and a score of other birds of beautiful plumage which made their homes in the hills.

John Hampton Clark, Champ Clark's father, was a native of New Jersey, and was born where Atlantic City now stands. He was a wanderer and roved from Philadelphia to New Orleans, then worked his way up the Mississippi and the Ohio to Louisville. The city proved not to the liking of the vigorous young adventurer, and he finally drifted to Lawrenceburg. There he met Alethea Beuchamp. She was a frail, beautiful girl, and the wanderer quickly succumbed to her charms. He lost all desire to roam farther, and after an ardent courtship persuaded her to become his wife. He was an educated man, a mechanical genius and an enthusiastic exponent of the doctrine of Democracy. Mrs. Clark was also well educated for those days, having received six years' "schooling" in a convent.

Tortured For 15 Years.

by a cure-defying stomach trouble that baffled doctors, and resisted all remedies he tried, John W. Modders, of Moddersville, Mich., seemed doomed. He had to sell his farm and give up work. His neighbors said, "he can't live much longer." "Whatever I ate distressed me," he wrote, "till I tried Electric Bitters, which worked such wonders for me that I can now eat things I could not take for years. Its surely a grand remedy for stomach trouble." Just as good for the liver and kidneys. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50c at Fariss-Klutzn Drug Co.

SPEEDY RELIEF FROM KIDNEY TROUBLE.

"I had an acute attack of Bright's disease with inflammation of the kidneys and bladder and dizziness," says Mrs. Cora Thorp, Jackson, Mich. "A bottle of Foley's Kidney Remedy overcame the attack, reduced the inflammation, took away the pain and made the bladder action normal. I wish everyone could know of this wonderful remedy." The Post-Office, The Popular Magazines and the People

A provision has been added to the post-office appropriation bill by the Senate Post-Office Committee without proper notice or public hearing. It provides for an unjust, discriminatory and confiscatory tax on the popular magazines. By attaching this provision to the post-office appropriation bill at the eleventh hour all opportunity for open discussion and consideration by the people, the publishers and the Senate was cut off. It was an un-American, star-chamber proceeding, accomplished under presidential and political coercion. If this bill is passed, with the provision which practically exempts from taxation magazines which have not spoken boldly on public questions, many of the popular periodicals will be put out of business altogether and the others, without exception, will be seriously crippled. Even if it were possible for the magazines to continue in business under these new conditions, the people would derive no benefit from the measure; for until the Post-Office Department is taken out of politics and a business-like management installed, it is improbable that any additional revenue collected will be used economically.

We urge every friend of honest politics, economical government and a free press to telegraph or write an immediate protest to their Senators and Representatives.

The Restaurant Piccolo.
Writing from Dresden, an American says: "There is at least one thing in a German restaurant for which one would look in vain in our country. That is the piccolo. You may think that I mean a musical instrument and that any orchestra in any country might have one of these, but you are wrong. My piccolo, the one at the restaurant, is a human being. He is a boy twelve to fifteen years old, who assists the regular waiters. He wears the regulation waiter's costume and looks funny in his spiketail coat. He is as solemn as a funeral, knows how to extract a tip and for the high privilege of retaining his place and taking his first degree as a waiter must endure much abuse at the hands of the head waiter and his underlings. He is a funny little fellow, this piccolo, who because of his appearance could never prosper in our country."—New York Tribune.

Created a New Word.

It was the third Earl Spencer who added a word to the language in consequence of a wager. The bet was that by cutting off the tail part of his overcoat he could bring into fashion overcoats so short that the skirts of the undercoat would show beneath. He won his wager, and "spencer" became the name both of that garment and of the feminine one afterward constructed in its likeness. The peerage has added more than one name to the terminology of costume. Everybody knows "Wellingtons," and the billycock hat is said by some to be really "Billy Coke," from Coke of Norfolk, earl of Leicester. But none of these examples in the sphere of clothes rivals what the Earl of Sandwich did when he contrived the slice of meat between bread as a device to enable him to go on gambling without leaving off for a meal.—London Chronicle.

Getting Acquainted.

"We hesitated about renting this place," said the woman who had just moved in, "until we learned that the families on both sides of us owned their houses. It is so unpleasant to live where the people next door are always changing and you never know what kind of neighbors you are going to have."

"Yes," responded the woman on the other side of the fence. "That's one reason why we're trying to sell our house."—Chicago Tribune.

LIFE INSURANCE IS A BIG INDUSTRY

Company That Greater Richmond Takes a Decided and Growing Interest In.

Richmond has not a few financial institutions of which it is proud. It has not a few of mercantile establishments of which it loves to boast and it has not a few of industrial concerns of which it loves to tell the world. Some of these business and financial and industrial plants commenced their growth in the dark days soon after war and reconstruction, and such of them as started in the flames and grew right up from the ashes and the ash piles following an awful period in the city's and in Virginia's history are Richmond's especial pride.

Among these is the Life Insurance Company of Virginia. It took a lot of nerve for Virginia capitalists and Virginia business men to undertake the life insurance business away back yonder in 1871, when the old State and all the South were but partially recovering from the bad effects of war and reconstruction, but Richmond and Petersburg had nerved men in those days, as it had before and as it has had since. The Life Insurance Company of Virginia, which was originally started in Petersburg and then moved to Richmond, had its ups and downs, as all new enterprises have, but along about the year 1886 the company fell into the hands of mighty good managers and moved to Richmond, and from that time up to this good year 1911 this management has made good, and will continue to make good for the years that are to come.

A Great Year's Work.

The footings for the past year are exceedingly gratifying to the stockholders, to the management and to greater Richmond, which loves a strong home institution. Just a glance at these figures shows that the premium income of the past year amounted to $2,765,737.44, and this was an increase over the business of the previous year of $176,803.40. The gross income of the company was $3,062,146.08, which was an increase of $230,516.01, and the increase in the assets of this well managed business was close to a million dollars, or to be exact was $956,012.58.

New Year's Footings.

Today the company has insurance in force to the amount of $72,440,374, which is an increase over 1909 of $4,102,761. The total number of policies in force as per the books of January 1, are 542,293, which is an increase over the past year of 22,959 policies. Last year the company paid to policyholders, and paid them promptly, to the amount of $966,186.48. Since the organization of the company, away back yonder soon after the War Between the States, the company has paid to policyholders the enormous sum of $10,786,598.97.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

If the present high prices of food do not continue to the discouragement of the cows, we may yet have milk and peaches.

A bill has been introduced in the Massachusetts legislature to tax bachelors of good moral standing. This is one way for the Athenians to get rid of the Pharisaees.

On Saturday the ways and means committee of the House reported favorably on Mr. Taft's reciprocity agreement with Canada, by a vote of 12 to 7. It is thought that the measure will certainly pass the House, but it will hardly get through the American house of lords unless it be amended to exempt the products of the American trusts from any amenities not in harmony with the Payne-Aldrich compact.

Senator Sikes, of Wake, has introduced a bill to increase the county tax for schools seven cents on the hundred dollars valuation, or from 18 to 25 cents. Thus citizenship in North Carolina is becoming more and more costly; but one is rarely proud of a privilege that costs little; and on the other hand, nothing costs a state so much as ignorance, which breeds, especially where training is at a premium, a condition which is infinitely worse—idleness.

State Senator Pharr on Saturday introduced a bill to incorporate an industrial reform and manual training school for colored youths, carrying $5,000 appropriation. This is one of the crying needs of North Carolina. Every one knows that in our cities and towns there are hundreds of negro boys who are on the way to criminality, and providing a place where they can be taught to work, under the direction of trained instructors and away from the influence of criminals, is one method of diminishing the number of petty thieves, purse-snatchers, and pilferers, generally, among the race. The better class of negroes deplore the fact that so many negro boys are being educated on the streets for anything but a life of useful toil, but they cannot cope with the situation without aid from the whites; and it will be wise economy for the State to provide just such an institution as the proposed reform school.

THE CAMPAIGN PROPHET.

The man who tries to classify Mr. Taft is merly killing time unless he gets good pay for his work. Whatever may be the President's faults, he is not a politician according to the usual and coarser meaning of the term. He is judicial above all things; he is a diplomat; he is a pacificator; but he does not truckle, and there is where his detractors have run amuck in their estimates. He likes to believe in men, and overconfidence has caused him to stray. He prefers to think that the motives of men are just, but when those motives prove otherwise, no one will be more willing to turn from them than Mr. Taft. And there is where he is sometimes placed in an embarrassing situation; for he does not possess infallible acumen and forethought. He is no diviner; and his optimism, and his readiness to accept present remedies in toto for future ills are likely to evoke no end of criticism. A statesman cannot afford to get for himself the name of compromiser, and to make or accept blunders for others to correct can never be considered the result of statesman-like ability. So that we may safely reckon on Mr. Taft's future course, at least in one particular: he is going to keep his ear closer to the ground. The voice of the people will henceforth be his cue for action. And the man who would sun up the President's fitness or unfitness for another term, with hope of becoming a nation's prophet, will likely have only the trouble for his pains.

BREECHES.

News comes from Paris that within a few days women will be wearing trousers. Many leading society women of Paris, including some former Americans, have already placed orders with the famous establishments of Worth and Paquin for their suits.

This is the initiative. The referendum is to come within a week.

All women wearing pantalons and those who have tired of the conventional skirt and the more modern hindrance to locomotion, the hobble, will, for once at least, have full powers of suffrage.

There is to be no provision in the law for the recall, one notable leader in the fashionable world having declared that, when introduced, the new garb would have a permanent place in the wardrobe of every well-dressed woman.

But the garment is not to appear quite so radical and outre as might be supposed. It is to be so ingeniously modeled as to give the wearer, while standing, the appearance of one wearing an ordinary skirt of the hobble variety; it is to be divided, and the "legs" will be caught up underneath, fitting closely about the ankles, after the fashion of the blouse, or more nearly like the trousers of the Turk. This will give the women more freedom in their movements and will enable those who wish to smoke and talk politics to elevate the feet to a height sufficient to rest on the mantel, without serious embarrassment or inconvenience.

An Unusual Opportunity.

The young clergyman had been urged by his bishop to raise in his small parish as large a sum as possible to swell the fund for the people of a faroff isle. The rector had put the need before his people as graphically as he was able, but he was not gifted with eloquence and felt that his appeal had not struck home to the hearts of his listeners. He made a last attempt to rouse their enthusiasm for the worthy cause.

"Think of them, so far away," he said earnestly. "Think of 20,000 persons living without the privileges of Christian burial, while any of you here in this little town may have the advantages of four handsome cemeteries, and give of your abundance, my brethren, to those who have nothing."—Youth's Companion.

Correct.

Teacher (addressing class)—A philanthropist is a person who exerts himself to do good to his fellow men. Now, if I were wealthy, children," she added by way of illustration, "and gave money freely to all needy and unfortunate who asked my aid I'd be a"—She broke off abruptly to point at a boy in the class.

"What would I be, Tommy?" she asked.

"A cinch!" shouted Tommy.—New York Weekly.

Reassured the Judge.

A wife, joining her husband in a conveyance of real estate, was asked by the judge, who examined her in private, according to the act of the assembly, whether she acted without compulsion on the part of her husband. She stuck her arms akimbo and replied: "He compel me! No, nor twenty like him!"—Argonaut.

An Important Detail.

Secretary of Missionary Society—We are sending you to Kai-Kai island, in the Solomons. Is there any particular information you would like about the inhabitants? Budding Missionary—Er—are they vegetarians?

Public Sentiment.

"Do you pay much attention to public sentiment?"

"No; I always look the other way when I see a young couple holding hands in the park."—Pittsburg Post.

THE SLIMS WIN BY ONLY 2 PINS

Defeated "All Stars" by Narrow Margin in Last Night's Bowling Contest—Duck Pin Contest Tonight.

One of the most exciting games of ten pins ever rolled at the Gem bowling alley was that of last night when the Slims, champions, retained their prestige by the narrow margin of 2 pins.

The opposing team was the All Stars of Greensboro and it certainly gave the Slims a run for their money.

Interest in this game was naturally very keen. The spectators were kept on alert and at critical moments when the game hung in the balance between the two evenly matched teams the suspense was very marked indeed.

The score was as follows:

Slims.	1st.	2nd.	3rd.	Total
Knight	197	182	206	585
Shields	153	162	161	476
Parks	122	107	148	377

RUBE ELDRIDGE AGAIN ON MOUND

Well Known Left Hander Signs Up With Greensboro—Doyle to Come Later Part of Month.

Jesse Eldridge, generally known as "Rube," was in town yesterday and had the honor of being the first player to affix his signature to a contract to play with Greensboro this season. Rube says he is going to do better work this year than ever, having found his shortcomings last year so he can overcome them. Eldridge is that left-hand ball tosser who did good work last year, his first season with a professional team. Manager Frank Doyle, who will hold down the second sack in addition to bossing the team, will be on hand the latter part of this month to begin active operations. He is already on the lookout for material and will no doubt have a winning team.

Doak and Fuller will be more than likely to be "on the job" as will Jackson. With Fuller on first, Doyle on second, Doak on third and Jackson at short Greensboro will have a capital infield.

HEADQUARTERS IN CHARLOTTE

Secretary of State Farmers' Union Will Move Office From King's Mountain.

Charlotte News: The North Carolina division of the Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union of America will have its headquarters in Charlotte.

An order to this effect has been signed by the executive committee of the state organization, and Mr. E. C. Faires, secretary and treasurer, who has made his headquarters in Kings Mountain since 1908, has already moved to Charlotte. His offices are in the Observer building on South Tryon street.

That Kings Mountain has been headquarters heretofore, lies in the fact that the union gained its first foothold in the state at that place in 1907, and the territory adjacent to Kings Mountain, was the first section of the state organized.

From this point the work branched out, coming to Gaston, and later into Catawba, and then into other counties of the state. Mr. G. W. Fant, of Texas, who had charge of the organization in the state before the state division was formed, made Kings Mountain his headquarters for the greater part of the time. When the state union was organized in 1908 and Mr. Faires was elected secretary and treasurer, Kings Mountain was selected as state headquarters for the state organization and has remained so until the present time.

At the recent state meeting held at Greensboro a resolution was adopted asking for the removal to Charlotte, but very little attention was given to the matter at the time. Those who opposed the removal of the state offices had hoped to make a fight against the removal, when the matter came before the executive committee on the ground that the expenses of maintaining the offices would be greatly increased and this would cause the offices to remain at Kings Mountain. However, the executive committee held a meeting at a time and place unexpected by the opponents of removal, and decided that the offices should be moved, regardless of the expense necessary to maintaining same.

Mr. Faires will continue to reside in Kings Mountain, but will be in his office at Charlotte the greater part of his time.

Bryan Favors Reciprocity Agreement. New Orleans, Feb. 13.—In urging the early ratification by Congress of the Canadian reciprocity agreement, William Jennings Bryan, before leaving New Orleans last night for Montgomery, Ala., made it plain that he regarded this as the most important question to come before the national legislators during the present session. "I hope the treaty will be ratified, and without delay," said Mr. Bryan. "Its benefits will be far reaching. I might add that I think that it was a neat little coup on the part of the Democratic congressmen to hold a caucus on the treaty question."

General Pension Bill Reported. Washington, Feb. 13.—The Senate committee on pensions today voted to report favorably the Sulloway general pension bill which already has passed the House. It increases the general pension roll about $50,000,000 a year. The vote was 8 to 3, the minority being Messrs. McCumber, Gore and Taliaferro.

WORKERS' INSTITUTES

Y. W. C. A. Arranges for a Number of Them in Various Places.

Prepared For The Telegram.

The Virginia-Carolina territorial committee of the Young Women's Christian Association has arranged a series of institutes for association workers, to be held this month, one in each of the three states of the territory. The institute for the North Carolina Association will be held at Winston-Salem Wednesday and Thursday of this week, and will include representatives from the associations of Asheville, Charlotte, Greensboro and Winston-Salem. Among the speakers will be Mrs. Elizabeth Preston Allen, of Charlotte, chairman of the Virginia-Carolina territorial committee; Miss Anna D. Casler, executive secretary for the territorial committee, and Miss Emma Hays, Dr. Anna L. Brown, Miss Helen L. Thomas and Miss Ethel Cutler, all four being members of the national secretarial staff.

Among the subjects to be discussed are the educational opportunity of the association, tested methods of association administration, the relation of health and recreation to right living, and helps to religious growth through the association. There will also be special conferences for board and committee members and secretaries.

Thursday afternoon there will be a reception at Hotel Frances at which time there will be informal talks on some phases of the national and territorial work.

A number of the members of the Greensboro association are planning to attend the institute at Winston, some spending the two days there and other going over for one day, leaving on the morning train at 8:15 and returning after the evening meeting, reaching home at 6 o'clock.

The Winston association has made ample provision for the entertainment of delegates and if there are any who can attend the institute for the entire time or for one day, whose names have not yet been sent in, they are requested to "phone to the association office that their names may be sent to the Winston association Tuesday. All members of the Greensboro association are urged to attend at least a part if they cannot attend the whole of the institute.

Pythians To Observe Anniversary.

The Pythians of the city will hold anniversary services next Sunday, Feb. 19, the order having been founded on Feb. 19, 1864. The sermon will be preached at Westminster Presbyterian church at 11 a. m. by Rev. C. E. Hodgkin, the pastor. The Pythians will meet at the hall of Lodge No. 80, and go to the church in a body. The Grand Chancellor has asked every Pythian lodge in the State to observe the anniversary.

MILEAGE BILL ON SECOND READING

Raleigh, Feb. 13.—The House tonight passed on second reading the Ewart bill to reduce railroad fares to two cents per mile on trains which refuse to pull mileage. The vote stood 43 to 35. On objection of Dillard, of Cherokee, it went over for third reading.

ITCHING IRRITATION.

Worst Form of Skin Trouble Quickly Cured by Inexpensive Treatment.

When you suffer with any skin trouble, even though the itching seems unbearable, do not think that it is necessary to use some disgusting greasy ointment. Try Hokara, a pure and simple skin food, that is guaranteed to contain no grease or acids and which is so cleanly it does not soil the linen.

Not only are minor skin troubles like pimples, blackheads, acne, barber's itch, etc., quickly cured, but the worst ulcers or cases of salt rheum or eczema are cleansed and healed by this wonderful skin food.

In order that any one may try Hokara at small expense Howard Gardner is selling a liberal sized jar at 25c and in addition guarantees to refund the money if the treatment does not do all that is claimed for it. Larger size 50 cents.

TESTIMONIAL.

I wish to state for the benefit of any one suffering from eczema, that I had eczema on my hand for some time and could find nothing that would cure it until I used Hokara. One 25c jar entirely cured me. Wm. Nichols, 821 1-2 Central Ave., Ft. Dodge, Iowa.

Her Retort

She was fretting about her trousseau. Said he, "If that worries you, please, why, we will not wed."

Then the maid she said, "If you want to back out, why just douseau."

—Exchange.
 We have in stock several dozen pairs of men's and women's shoes that are solid and all right but for some reason or other are "slow sellers." Now, we haven't got any room in this store for slow sellers and have marked these shoes so low that they are going to "move on" at a lively rate. Ask to see them next time you come in. Maybe you will find just what you need, and if so you can save from fifty cents to a dollar on a pair.

In a few weeks you will be wanting slippers for your little girls. They are sure to want a pair as soon as it turns warm, and here's where you can save money again. We carried over about fifty pairs from last season and are going to close these out cheap if possible before the new stock comes in. There are also three or four dozen pairs of women's slippers from last season to go at very much reduced prices. The cut price sale of girls' shoes is still going on, and we still have nearly all sizes, but they are going fast now.

Girls, girls, girls. We still have too many girls' shoes in stock and they must go at some price. We offer one lot, good shoes carried over from last season, at only 95 cents a pair, sizes in this lot 1-2 to 1-2. Another lot, all sizes from 1-2 to 2, sold at $1.75 and $2.00, marked down to $1.25. This is an opportunity to get good shoes for your girls way under regular prices. Don't wait, the best bargains will go first. Thacker & Brockmann.

A PRIME FACTOR IN BUSINESS

Business men find a banking account absolutely necessary to the proper transaction of their business accounts.

Besides affording the greatest convenience, and assuring the dispatch in the transfers of moneys, accounts paid by checks insures the payer against any possible loss or wrong payment, and when canceled, is the best receipt to be had. But in addition to the necessity of a bank account, there are many ways in which association with a strong bank can further the interests of any business.

A Teacupful or Bath tubful
—20 tubfuls of hot water if you choose.

The Ruud's capacity is measured by the flow per minute, not limited by an iron reservoir.

You get hot water by merely turning the faucet—this is absolutely all you have to do.

Water is heated instantaneously as it flows through the Ruud to you.

The Ruud Heats only the Exact Quantity of Water You are Using.

Do you want a teacupful?—The Ruud burns just enough gas to fill it with hot water—and then extinguishes the gas in its own burners and lies idle till you want hot water again. An economical, "self-operating" device.—Its scientific construction will interest you—come in and see it.

Look For the Horse With This Mark on the Toes

There are many kinds of guaranteed hosiery but they are all imitations of the original "Holeproof."

When your husband goes out to buy socks, tell him to insist on "Holeproof"—tell him to look on the toes for our trademark.

This means more than you think—it means that if any holes appear within six months we give you new hosiery free.

But that is not all, the hosiery itself is more stylish and comfortable than any other on the market.

FAMOUS Holeproof Hosiery FOR MEN WOMEN AND CHILDREN

The makers use only the finest and softest cotton from Egypt and the Sea Islands. They pay 63 cents a pound, but could buy ordinary cotton at 12 cents a pound.

The yarn is three-ply in the body and doubled to six-ply in the heels, toes and knees. Common hosiery is made of two-ply yarn throughout yet it costs you as much as "Holeproof."

Comfort is supreme in "Holeproof"—the fabric is as soft and smooth as silk. Style is increased for the hosiery is shaped to fit the ankle like a glove fits the hand.

Men's hose come in eleven attractive colors and women's in six. Price $1.50 to $3 a box of six pairs. Children's hose, in black and tan, at $2 a box of six pairs. Please come in and see this hosiery today—it costs no more than the ordinary.

GIRL AS SECRETARY.

Miss Harris Will Hold Down Job For Her Congressman Father.

Boston Post.

One of the first young women to be selected as private secretary to a Representative, Miss Elizabeth C. Harris, daughter of Representative-elect Robert O. Harris, of Bridgewater, will in the near future fill a unique position in Washington.

In fact, as private secretary to Judge Harris, this attractive girl of 24 will be likely to attract the keenest interest and attention in Washington, since a woman secretary to a Representative is so rare as to be almost unknown.

It is partly because there are no boys in Judge Harris' family that his daughter has been given the position by her father. She is tall and svelt, graceful and fond of athletics. She has blond hair, large eyes, a well-shaped mouth and the most tactful and charming way of greeting a visitor. In fact, it is predicted that as a tactician she will far exceed the average male private secretary in Washington.

Miss Harris is a graduate of the Bridgewater High School. In speaking of her new and novel task she says:

"Just now I am studying hard to learn all about the duties that go along with a Representative's secretary's position. Although my father is to be my employer that does not free me from any of the duties of my position."

"I have always tried to be a good chum to my father, and I think I have been more or less successful, or else he would not have offered to take me to Washington with him as his helper. It is, indeed, a good index to a father's belief in a daughter when he is willing to trust her with his political and business secrets."

"Apart from the question of relationship, no position could be more pleasantly anticipated by me than being the secretary to one of our statesmen in Washington. Presumably every woman who likes to be independent would be pleased with the idea. I am not one of those who believe that a woman's interests are limited to social and household affairs."

"Undoubtedly if there had been sons in the family I should not be called on to take a man's place, but it can scarcely make a difference whether my father is served by his own son or his daughter as private secretary, provided the work is faithfully done and his affairs are looked out for in a businesslike way."

"Just now I am studying stenography and typewriting in Boston, and learning the routine duties of a professional private secretary."

Backache, Rheumatism, Sleeplessness

Result from disordered kidneys. Foley Kidney Pills have helped others, they will help you. Mrs. J. B. Miller, Syracuse, N. Y., says: "For a long time I suffered with kidney trouble and rheumatism. I had severe backaches and felt all played out. After taking two bottles of Foley's Kidney Pills my backache is gone and where I used to lie awake with rheumatic pains I now sleep in comfort. Foley's Kidney Pills did wonderful things for me." Try them now. Howard Gardner.

A Quick Step.

Merchant to (widow). I am willing to buy your husband's working business and good will for $5,000.

Widow. Well, but I happen to be part of the working business.

Merchant. Then I'll take only the good will.—Fliegende Blätter.

PNEUMONIA FOLLOWS A COLD.

But never follows the use of Foley's Honey and Tar, which checks the cough and expels the cold. M. Stockwell, Hannibal, Mo., says: "It beats all the remedies I ever used. I contracted a bad cold and cough and was threatened with pneumonia. One bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar completely cured me." No opiates, just a reliable household medicine. Howard Gardner.

Not Easy.

"What is the hardest work you do?"

"My hardest work," replied Senator Sorghum, "is trying to look like my photograph and talk like my speeches when I get back to my home town."—Washington Star.

Foley's Kidney Pills are a reliable remedy for backache, rheumatism and urinary irregularities. They are tonic in action, quick in results and afford a prompt relief from all kidney disorders. Howard Gardner.

Caution.

"I have a remarkable history," began the lady who looked like a possible client.

"To tell or sell?" inquired the lawyer cautiously.—Washington Herald.

LA GRIPPE COUGHS.

Strain and weaken the system and if not checked may develop into pneumonia. No danger of this when Foley's Honey and Tar is taken promptly. It is a reliable family medicine for all coughs and colds, and acts quickly and effectively in cases of croup. Refuse substitutes. Howard Gardner.

LIFE NOT WORTH LIVING

is the way Miss Alta Abel, of West Baden, Ind., summed up her existence after having sought in vain for health. She writes, "I was a complete wreck—always tired, worn out and nervous. I had to spend about one-third of my time in bed, and my life was not worth living."

Vinol, your delicious cod liver and iron tonic, was recommended, and I can truly say it has done me more good than all the medicine I ever took in my life. That nervous and tired feeling is all gone. I have gained in health, flesh and strength, until I feel like another person." (We guarantee this testimonial to be genuine.)

What Vinol did for Miss Abel, we know it will do for every nervous, run-down, overworked, tired, thin and discouraged woman in this vicinity.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. Fariss-Klut Drug Co., Greensboro, N. C.

MAY PROVE FATAL

When Will Greensboro People Learn the Importance of It?

Backache is only a simple thing at first.

But when you know 'tis from the kidneys:

That serious kidney troubles follow; That dropsy, Bright's disease may be the fatal end.

You will gladly profit by the following experience.

'Tis the honest statement of a sufferer who was cured.

Mrs. William Welborn, 720 S. Hamilton St., High Point, N. C., says: "At the time I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, I was suffering from kidney trouble in its worst form. The complaint had been coming on me gradually for three years. There was a constant ache in the small of my back and the kidney secretions were unnatural. I suffered from headaches and dizzy spells and I slept so poorly at night that when I got up in the morning, I was hardly able to drag myself about. Doan's Kidney Pills were so highly recommended to me that I finally gave them a trial and I cannot fully describe the complete change that took place. I gradually grew better and before long I was well. I have not been troubled since."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cts. Water-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, the agents for the United States.

BLAMES CITY FOR CRIME.

Ex-Convict Says He Wanted to Reform, But Law Prevented.

Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"I don't want to whine or make the same old howl every criminal in the country tries to get away with, but when I am arraigned in court to answer the charge of picking pockets I am going to say that the city of Cleveland is responsible for my last offense," said Joseph Williams, self-confessed philosopher and pickpocket, as he lay on a cot in a cell in the county jail yesterday afternoon.

Williams, a month ago, stepped almost directly from the penitentiary at Columbus into the city workhouse here and then into the county jail. Four days of freedom were given him after dismissal from the penitentiary before he was locked up by detectives and sent to the workhouse. Just about one day of freedom was given him after leaving the workhouse when he was again arrested and placed in the county jail, pending trial for picking a pocket.

Williams' education, criminal and otherwise, was not obtained in a school or from books. As a small boy, selling papers and blacking boots on the streets of Chicago, he learned to know things by getting up against them.

"I don't know just when I began to pick pockets," he said. "As a newsboy I soon learned to forget to bring change back to men who trusted me. From that it was only a step to taking things left unguarded on stands in front of stores or slipping things from the pockets of men in a crowd."

"I have a record now for criminal work in a good many States and it is on that record that I am being continually taken up."

Williams was just about to purchase a ticket for Boston, where he has relatives, when he was picked up on suspicion and sent to the workhouse.

"I had money enough to take me to Boston and I was keeping straight. When I got out of the workhouse a few days ago I was penniless and hungry—and well, it does not take much philosophy to see that the officials are more responsible for my crime last time than I am. You see, your perfect police surveillance works two ways. It often tends to keep a bad man from becoming good."

Williams is 29, unmarried, and has no home. He claims that he wanted to retire from the criminal life when he served his last term in the penitentiary because his health was failing and he realized that he could not stand much more prison life. He says that regular criminals do not stop in Cleveland.

"They sometimes do a job here and then hurry right along. It is in Toledo and Detroit that they are sure of their meals and a place to sleep."

Suggested a Remedy.

Even medical gentlemen are not devoid of professional jealousy. Two doctors were bragging about the number of their patients.

"Why, last night I was awakened up half a dozen times," said the younger doctor.

"You were, eh?" replied the other. "Well, why don't you buy some insect powder?"

Did Not Look Like It.

"What is it?" asked the visitor in the studio.

"An Italian sunset," replied the proud artist.

"Oh!"

"Didn't you ever see an Italian sunset?"

"Oh, yes. That is the reason I asked what it was."—Yonkers Statesman.

Considerate.

"The most considerate wife I ever heard of," said the philosopher, "was a woman who used to date all her letters a week or so ahead to allow her husband time to post them."

TWIN

Edition

Now for the first time you get a complete set of all Mark Twain's writings at just exactly one-half the price they have ever been sold before. This is a new edition, just as complete as the old one, which still sells, by the way, at $50.00. This new edition is only $25.00—for the 25 volumes.

It had been Mark Twain's ambition to have his books in every American home, and he made a great personal sacrifice to bring about this remarkable opportunity for the first time in the history of publishing, copyrighted books are sold at the price of non-copyrighted books—the chance will not come again.

But for Mark Twain's action this would have been impossible. Never before has a copyrighted library set of a standard author's works been issued at such a low figure.

His Complete Works—
25 Beautiful Volumes

Brander Matthews says: "Mark Twain will be included in that group of writers headed by Molière and Cervantes. With the exception of Count Tolstoi, Twain was the greatest of recent modern writers, and will be handed down to posterity through the trio of his works 'Huckleberry Finn,' 'Tom Sawyer,' and 'Pudd'nhead Wilson.' Twain is a greater stylist than Stevenson or Thoreau, and his 'Man that Corrupted Hadleyburg' is one of the finest works in English literature." Mark Twain himself wrote a preface to this edition. Brander Matthews has written the biographical criticism of Mark Twain and his work. There are portraits of the author at periods when the different books were in process of writing.

There are beautiful pictures by such artists as Frost, Newell, Smedley, Thulstrup, Clinedinst, Kemble, and Oppel. The binding is in rich red rep silk book cloth, with title labels stamped in gold. The books are printed on white antique wove paper, especially made for this edition. Each volume is of generous size and bulk, 5x7 1/4 inches.

and gently reared, women will find in all the seasons of their lives, as maidens, wives and mothers, that the one simple, wholesome laxative remedy, which acts gently and pleasantly and naturally and which may be taken at any time, when the system needs a laxative, with perfect safety and really beneficial effects, is Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna.

It has that true delicacy of flavor which is so refreshing to the taste, that warming and grateful toning to the stomach which responds so favorably to its action and the laxative effect which is so beneficial to the system when, occasionally, its gentle cleansing is required.

The genuine, always bearing the name of the California Fig Syrup Co., may be purchased from all leading druggists in original packages of one-size only, price fifty cents per bottle.

MUNICIPAL COURT

Mason and Swinson Get Eighteen Months Each For Larceny.

In Municipal court yesterday morning John Henry Mason and Glenn Swinson, two negroes, were charged with larceny, being given eighteen months each on the county roads. The negroes were charged with stealing pants from the Vans-tory Clothing Company and also from D. Stadium, getting nine months in each case.

Walter Calder was fined $5 and costs for an assault.

Doesn't Know Her Age.

There is a glaring phase of unfairness in the position of the two sexes, despite all our struggles for the suffrage. A woman still dreads to tell her age, no matter how youthful she may look, while as long as a man looks youthful he is generally willing to admit and even to boast of how many milestones he has passed. There is at least one father who understood this problem in time and who gave his daughter a fair chance in life by never letting her know how old she was. He realized at her birth that a time would come when she would not want to tell her age, and he spared her the humiliation of having to prevaricate, so she was never told either her age or the place where she was born, and there were no birth records preserved in the family.—New York World.

Mr. and Mrs. Buhmann Arrive.
Mr. and Mrs. Walter Buhmann arrived in the city last night from Goldsboro, to which city they went from Turkey Sunday. On Saturday Mr. Buhmann was married to Miss Bettie Faison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Faison, formerly of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Buhmann will reside here.

Don't Keep Your Money in the House—PUT IT IN THE BANK

When your money is burned up regrets won't bring it back to you. It is very Unsafe and it Worries you a whole lot to have money in your house or in a hole in the ground. Besides "looking" time after time to see if it is safe teaches people where it is and makes it very Unsafe.

Make OUR Bank YOUR Bank.

We pay liberal interest consistent with safety 4 per cent.
